Winemaker Yiannis Boutaris (Kir-Yianni) has been one of the country's most highly regarded vintners for decades. His vineyards in northern Greece are famous for their wines made from Xynomavro (pron. ksee-noh-mah-vroh).

Somewhere in flavor between a dry white and light red wine, this super-elegant rosé is one of the best we've ever tasted. It displays wonderful aromas of strawberries, tart fruit, refreshing acidity and a hint of tannin that guarantees this is serious wine to pair with food.
